

Activism: Belief in Action

This presentation uses a collection of images to facilitate a classroom discussion on what it means to be an activist. The class will then be introduced to an historical figure related to the fight for civil rights in America. The character interpreted will be determined by the availability of our actors.